Vexillology, or the study of flags is a fascinating and ever-changing subject. The Complete Flags of the World presents a detailed and compelling overview of the history behind the development of world flags. Each national flag is fully described with text and annotations that describe its history, the development of its design, the significance of colors, symbols, and crests. Even the smallest countries are given a full page, and the story of each flag is analyzed consistently to make comparisons simple. The attractive format and handy pocket size will make this an ideal gift or reference for anyone who is interested in flags.

Flags of the World

Do you know that the flag of Switzerland is square in shape and not rectangular? It is one of the only two square flags in the world, the other being the flag of Vatican City. And do you also know that the flag of Nepal is neither square nor rectangle? The national flag of Nepal is a combination of two triangle-shaped flags colored in crimson red and bordered by blue. The flags you see representing different countries are more than a piece of fabric. A flag is a country's national symbol. It represents their identity as a nation. The colors and designs on a flag have its cultural, political, historical, religious and regional significance. Many countries with a predominant Christian population would have a cross on their flags while Muslim countries would have a crescent moon on theirs. African countries like Benin, Republic of Congo, Mali and the others would have the green, yellow and red colors on their flags which are the colors of the Ethiopian flag. The use of the said colors signifies giving honor to Ethiopia the oldest independent country in Africa. The green, white, red, and black colors are Pan-Arab colors that are common on the flags of many Arab countries like Jordan, Libya, Sudan and others. More fascinating information and trivia about 196 flags of different countries around the world are featured in this book especially made for young learners.

Test your flag memory with clues to help, or find flag images, relax and color away A fun, creative gift for yourself or as a present for someone special! With your new coloring book, you will discover: All country flags included (196 to date - counting Palestine and Kosovo). Coloring is done by continent, starting in North America. 16 Recommended colors (similar shades of colors grouped) to use when coloring in the flags on the back cover. Unlike several flag coloring books we have seen, we have included all flags and not just the more well known ones. Flag outlines are sized proportionally depending on their complexity. For example, the flag of Poland, a half Red half white flag has a smaller outline than the flag of Bhutan, which has a dragon on it's flag! If you are looking for a challenge, take on the flag outlines! There is a color scheme on the back cover that serves as a clue if you get stuck. This works by giving you the colors that appear on a flag, but not where they appear. High quality flag outline graphics used for a superior experience. The World Atlas of Flags is a reference work for scholars and students, as well as a fascinating read for anyone interested in knowing more about vexillology - the study of flags. Beginning with the history of flags and heraldry, it explores the use of symbols and colours, flags in the military and at sea, and the flags of international organizations, such as the UN and Red Cross. The bulk of the book is a directory of flags of the world's nations. Listed by continent, each entry includes the national, or civil, flag, with some background on its origin and meaning. Where applicable, information is given on the similarities between flags of neighbouring states, or even of nations far apart that, through conquest or other historical ties, have common elements in their flags. Concise statistics help place each nation in a contemporary context, while locator maps site them geographically.

Presents the history and symbolic interpretation of every national flag and includes the flags of international organizations and of each state of the United States.
